ATLANTA, GA – MARCH 27, 2009. Tridia Corporation, the leader in remote access and support software for Linux and UNIX, announces that Stanley Armour, Inc., has purchased iTivity meet its growing support needs.

"When you run a service business like Stanley Armour, you are only as good as your last customer interaction", says Vince Frese, Tridia's President & CEO. "Responsiveness and results are critical to their long term success. We are pleased that Stanley Armour has chosen iTivity to help ensure their success."

Stanley Armour provides business technology consulting for a variety of clients. They team up with a variety of solution providers to design and implement IT solutions. Stanley Armour selected iTivity because it could be quickly and easily deployed to any of their customers, supported a variety of platforms, and is premise-based making it very secure and cost effective.
